Indemnification Obligation Not Limited

In any and all claims against the State of Michigan, or any of its agents or employees, by any employee of the Contractor or any of its subcontractors, the indemnification obligation under the Contract shall not be limited in any way by the amount or type of damages, compensation or benefits payable by or for the Contractor or any of its subcontractors under worker's disability compensation acts, disability benefits acts, or other employee benefits acts. This indemnification clause is intended to be comprehensive. Any overlap in sub clauses, or the fact that greater specificity is provided as to some categories of risk, is not intended to limit the scope of indemnification under any other sub clause.

Continuation of Indemnification Obligation

The duty to indemnify will continue in full force and affect notwithstanding the expiration or early termination of the Contract with respect to any claims based on facts or conditions, which occurred prior to termination.

Indemnification Procedures

The procedures set forth below shall apply to all indemnity obligations under this Contract.

- (a) After receipt by the State of notice of the action or proceeding involving a claim in respect of which it will seek indemnification, the State shall promptly notify Contractor of such claim in writing and take or assist Contractor in taking, as the case may be, any reasonable action to avoid the imposition of a default judgment against Contractor. No failure to so notify Contractor shall relieve Contractor of its indemnification obligations except to the extent that Contractor can demonstrate damages attributable to such failure. Within ten (10) days following receipt of written notice from the State relating to any claim, Contractor shall notify the State in writing whether Contractor agrees to assume control of the defense and settlement of that claim (a "Notice of Election"). After notifying Contractor of a claim and prior to the State receiving Contractor's Notice of Election, the State shall be entitled to defend against the claim, at Contractor's expense, and Contractor will be responsible for any reasonable costs incurred by the State in defending against the claim during such period.

- (b) If Contractor delivers a Notice of Election relating to any claim: (i) the State shall be entitled to participate in the defense of such claim and to employ counsel at its own expense to assist in the handling of such claim and to monitor and advise the State about the status and progress of the Defense; (ii) Contractor shall, at the request of the State, demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the State, Contractor's financial ability to carry out its defense and indemnity obligations under this Contract; (iii) Contractor shall periodically advise the State about the status and progress of the defense and shall obtain the prior written approval of the State before entering into any settlement of such claim or ceasing to defend against such claim and (iv) to the extent that any principles of Michigan governmental or public law may be involved or challenged, the State shall have the right, at its own expense, to control the defense of that portion of such claim involving the principles of Michigan governmental or public law. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the State may retain control of the defense and settlement of a claim by written notice to Contractor given within ten (10) days after the State's receipt of Contractor's information requested by the State pursuant to clause (ii) of this paragraph if the State determines that Contractor has failed to demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the State Contractor's financial ability to carry out its defense and indemnity obligations under this Section. Any litigation activity on behalf of the State of Michigan, or any of its subdivisions pursuant to this Section, must be coordinated with the Department of Attorney General. In the event the insurer's attorney represents the State pursuant to this Section, the insurer's attorney may be required to be designated as a Special Assistant Attorney General by the Attorney General of the State of Michigan.
- (c) If Contractor does not deliver a Notice of Election relating to any claim of which it is notified by the State as provided above, the State shall have the right to defend the claim in such manner as it may deem appropriate, at the cost and expense of Contractor. If it is determined that the claim was one against which Contractor was required to indemnify the State, upon request of the State, Contractor shall promptly reimburse the State for all such reasonable costs and expenses.

2.306 LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

Except as set forth herein, neither the Contractor nor the State shall be liable to the other party for indirect or consequential damages, even if such party has been advised of the possibility of such damages. Such limitation as to indirect or consequential damages shall not apply to claims for infringement of United States patent, copyright, trademarks or trade secrets; to claims for personal injury or damage to property caused by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Contractor; to claims covered by other specific provisions of this Contract calling for liquidated damages; to Contractor's indemnification obligations (2.305); or to court costs or attorney's fees awarded by a court in addition to damages after litigation based on this Contract.

The Contractor shall not remove or reassign, without the State's prior written approval any of the Key Personnel until such time as the Key Personnel have completed all of their planned and assigned responsibilities in connection with performance of the Contractor's obligations under this Contract. The Contractor agrees that the continuity of Key Personnel is critical and agrees to the continuity of Key Personnel. Removal of Key Personnel without the written consent of the State may be considered by the State to be a material breach of this Contract. 2.507 RESERVED*2.508 EQUIPMENT WARRANTY - Reserved*2.509 RESERVED*2.6 Breach of Contract*2.601 BREACH DEFINED

Failure to comply with articles, sections, or subsections of this agreement, or making any false statement in this agreement will be considered a material breach of this agreement giving the state authority to invoke any and all remedies available to it under this agreement.

In addition to any remedies available in law and by the terms of this contract, if the Contractor breaches Sections 2.508, 2.509, or 2.510, such a breach may be considered as a default in the performance of a material obligation of this contract.

2.602 NOTICE AND THE RIGHT TO CURE

In the event of a curable breach by the Contractor, the State shall provide the Contractor written notice of the breach and a time period to cure said breach described in the notice. This section requiring notice and an opportunity to cure shall not be applicable in the event of successive or repeated breaches of the same nature or if the State determines in its sole discretion that the breach poses a serious and imminent threat to the health or safety of any person or the imminent loss, damage or destruction of any real or tangible personal property.

2.603 EXCUSABLE FAILURE

1. Neither party shall be liable for any default or delay in the performance of its obligations under the Contract if and to the extent such default or delay is caused, directly or indirectly, by: fire, flood, earthquake, elements of nature or acts of God; riots, civil disorders, rebellions or revolutions in any country; the failure of the other party to perform its material responsibilities under the Contract (either itself or through another contractor); injunctions (provided the injunction was not issued as a result of any fault or negligence of the party seeking to have its default or delay excused); or any other cause beyond the reasonable control of such party; provided the non-performing party and its subcontractors are without fault in causing such default or delay, and such default or delay could not have been prevented by reasonable precautions and cannot reasonably be circumvented by the non-performing party through the use of alternate sources, workaround plans or other means, including disaster recovery plans. In such event, the non-performing party will be excused from any further performance or observance of the obligation(s) so affected for as long as such circumstances prevail and such party continues to use its best efforts to recommence performance or observance whenever and to whatever extent possible without delay provided such party promptly notifies the other party in writing of the inception of the excusable failure occurrence, and also of its abatement or cessation.
2. If any of the above enumerated circumstances substantially prevent, hinder, or delay performance of the services necessary for the performance of the State's functions for more than 14 consecutive days, and the State determines that performance is not likely to be resumed within a period of time that is satisfactory to the State in its reasonable discretion, then at the State's option: (a) the State may procure the affected services from an alternate source, and the State shall not be liable for payments for the unperformed services under the Contract for so long as the delay in performance shall continue; (b) the State may cancel any portions of the Contract so affected and the charges payable hereunder shall be equitably adjusted to reflect those services canceled; or (c) the Contract will be canceled without liability of the State to the Contractor as of the date specified by the State in a written notice of cancellation to the Contractor. The Contractor will not have the right to any additional payments from the State as a result of any excusable failure occurrence or to payments for services not rendered as a result of the excusable failure condition. Defaults or delays in performance by the Contractor which are caused by acts or omissions of its subcontractors will not relieve the Contractor of its obligations under the Contract except to the extent that a subcontractor is itself subject to any excusable failure condition described above and the Contractor cannot reasonably circumvent the effect of the subcontractor's default or delay in performance through the use of alternate sources, workaround plans or other means.

2.7 Remedies

The State shall give the Contractor written notice of such non-appropriation or unavailability within 30 days after it receives notice of such non-appropriation or unavailability.

Termination may be in whole or in part and may be immediate as of the date of the written notice to Contractor or may be effective as of the date stated in such written notice.

All completed or partially completed Deliverables prepared by Contractor pursuant to this Contract shall, at the option of the State, become the State's property, and Contractor shall be entitled to receive equitable fair compensation for such Deliverables. Regardless of the basis for the termination, the State shall not be obligated to pay, or otherwise compensate, Contractor for any lost expected future profits, costs or expenses incurred with respect to Services not actually performed for the State.

- (4.) The State shall compensate Contractor for such termination assistance at the same rates and charges set forth in the Contract on a time and materials basis in accordance with the Labor Rates indicated within Contractors pricing section. If the Contract is terminated by Contractor under Section 20, then Contractor may condition its provision of termination assistance under this Section on reasonable assurances of payment by the State for such assistance, and any other amounts owed under the Contract.

C. Reservation of Rights

The stop work order shall be specifically identified as such and shall indicate that it is issued under this section. Upon receipt of the stop work order, the Contractor shall immediately comply with its terms and take all reasonable steps to minimize the incurrence of costs allocable to the work covered by the stop work order during the period of work stoppage. Within the period of the stop work order, the State shall either:

An appropriate equitable adjustment may be made in any related contract of the Contractor that provides for adjustment and is affected by any stop work order under this section. The State shall not be liable to the Contractor for loss of profits because of a stop work order issued under this section.

2.705 SUSPENSION OF WORK

However, no adjustment shall be made under this clause for any suspension, delay, or interruption to the extent that performance would have been so suspended, delayed, or interrupted by any other cause, including the fault or negligence of the Contractor, or for which an equitable adjustment is provided for or excluded under any other term or condition of this contract.

A claim under this clause shall not be allowed:

- (1) For any costs incurred more than 20 days before the Contractor shall have notified the Contract Administrator in writing of the act or failure to act involved (but this requirement shall not apply as to a claim resulting from a suspension order); and
- (2) Unless the claim, in an amount stated, is asserted in writing as soon as practicable after the termination of the suspension, delay, or interruption, but not later than the date of final payment under the contract.

2.8 Changes, Modifications, and Amendments

2.802 TIME EXTENTIONS

Time extensions for contract changes will depend upon the extent, if any, by which the changes cause delay in the completion of the various elements of performance as described in the statement of work. The change order granting the time extension may provide that the contract completion date will be extended only for those specific elements related to the changed work and that the remaining contract completion dates for all other portions of the work will not be altered. The change order also may provide an equitable readjustment of liquidated damages under the new completion schedule.

Such modification may include changing the locations to be serviced, additional locations to be serviced, method or manner of performance of the work, number of days service is to be performed, addition or deletion of tasks to be performed, addition or deletion of items, and/or any other modifications deemed necessary. The State reserves the right to add an item(s) that is not described on the item listing and is available from the Contract vendor. The item(s) may be included on the Contract, only if prior written approval has been granted by Acquisition Services.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR

LEADED GASOLINE, REGULAR

These specifications state the required properties of “leaded gasoline” at the time and place of delivery in bulk. They provide for an automatic variation by the seller to meet the requirements of seasonal changes in temperature, depending upon the season in which the product is to be used. This is done by providing three vapor pressures and ten percent distillation points for the type of gasoline specified and differentiating the use of these variations according to the month of the year. Tank wagon payment will be on gallons delivered without temperature corrections.

FUEL OIL – HIGH SULFUR

SCOPE:

These specifications cover grades of fuel oil for various types of fuel oil-burning equipment.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS:

The grades of fuel oil specified herein shall be homogeneous hydrocarbon oils, free from inorganic acid, and free from excessive amounts of solid or fibrous foreign matter likely to make frequent cleaning of suitable strainers necessary.

All grades containing residual components shall remain uniform in normal storage and not separate by gravity into light and heavy oil components outside the viscosity limits for the grade.

The actual gallonage delivered will be determined by reducing the column to the basis of sixty (60) degrees F (*).

DETAILED REQUIREMENTS:

The various grades of fuel oil shall conform to the limiting requirements shown in Table I. It is the intent of these classifications that failure to meet any requirements of a given grade does not automatically place an oil in the next lower grade unless in fact it meets all the requirements of the lower grade.

METHODS OF TESTING:

The requirements enumerated in these specifications shall be determined in accordance with the following methods of testing of the American Society for Testing and Materials (current revision) except as may be required under Paragraph (a):

- (a) FLASH POINT – Test Methods D 93, except where other methods are prescribed by law for the determination of minimum flash point. For Grades No. 1 and No. 2, Test Method D56, may be used as an alternative with the same limits, provided the flash point is below 79.4 degrees C (175 degrees F) and the viscosity is below 5.8 cSt (45 SUS) at 38 degrees C (100 degrees F).
- (b) POUR POINT – Standard Method of Test for Cloud and Pour Points (A.S.T.M. Designation D97).
- (c) WATER AND SEDIMENT – The water and sediment in Grades No's. 1 and 2 shall be determined in accordance with Test Method D 1796 and in Grade No's. 4, 5, and 6 by Test Method D95, and Test Method D473. A density of 1.0 kg/L shall be used for the Test Method D524.
- (d) CARBON RESIDUE – Test Method D524.
- (e) ASH – Test Method D482.
- (f) DISTILLATION – Distillation of Grade No. 1 and No. 2 oils shall be determined in accordance with Method D86.
- (g) VISCOSITY – Viscosity shall be determined in accordance with Test Method D445.
- (h) GRAVITY – Test Method D287.
- (i) CORROSION – Test Method D130, 3 h test at fifty (50) degrees C (122 degrees F).
- (j) SULFUR – The sulfur content of any grade may be determined by any of the following methods: Test Method D1552, or Test Method D2622. In addition, the sulfur of Grade No. 1 may be determined by Test Method D1266.
- (k) HEAT OF COMBUSTION – Standard Method of Test for Heat of Combustion of Liquid Hydrocarbon Fuels by Bomb Calorimeter (A.S.T.M. Designation: 240).

SIGNIFICANCE OF TESTS PRESCRIBED

POUR POINT: The pour point is an indication of the lowest temperature at which a fuel oil can be stored and still be capable of flowing under very low forces. The pour point is prescribed in accordance with the conditions of storage and use. Higher pour point fuels are permissible where heated storage and adequate piping facilities are provided. An increase in pour point may occur when residual fuel oils are subjected to cyclic temperature variations that may occur in the course of storage or when the fuel is preheated and returned to storage tanks.

WATER AND SEDIMENT: Appreciable amounts of water and sediment in a fuel oil tend to cause fouling of facilities for handling it, and to give trouble in burner mechanisms. Sediment may accumulate in storage tanks and on filter screens or distillate fuels may cause corrosion of tanks and equipment and it may cause emulsions in residual fuels.

CARBON RESIDUE: The carbon residue of a fuel is a measure of the carbonaceous material left after all the volatile components are vaporized in the absence of air. It is a rough approximation of the tendency of a fuel to form deposits in vaporizing burners, such as pot-type and sleeve-type burners, where the fuel is vaporized in the air-deficient atmosphere.

ASH: The amount of ash is the quantity of noncombustible material in an oil. Excessive amounts may indicate the presence of materials that cause high wear of burner pumps and valves, and contribute to deposits on boiler heating surfaces.

DISTILLATION: The distillation test shows the volatility of a fuel and the ease with which it can be vaporized. The test is of greater significance for oils that are to be burned in vaporizing type burners than for the atomizing type. For example, the maximum ten (10) percent and ninety (90) percent distilled temperatures are specified for grade No. 1 fuel. The limiting ten (10) percent value assures easy starting in vaporizing type burners and the ninety (90) percent limit excludes heavier fractions that would be difficult to vaporize.

The limits specified for grade No. 2 heating oil define a product that is acceptable for burners of the atomizing type in household heating installations. Distillation limits are not specified for fuel oils of grades No's. 4, 5, and 6.

VISCOSITY: Viscosity Limits for Grades No's. 1 and 2 – The viscosity of an oil is a measure of its resistance to flow. In fuel oil it is highly significant since it indicated both the relative ease with which the oil will flow or may be pumped, and the ease of atomization.

Viscosity limits for No. 1 and No. 2 grades are specified to help maintain uniform fuel flow in appliance with gravity flow, and to provide satisfactory atomization and constant flow rate through the small nozzles of household burners. For the heavier grades of industrial and bunker fuel oils, viscosity is of major importance, so that adequate preheating facilities can be provided to permit them to be pumped to the burner and to provide good atomization. However is equally important that the maximum viscosity under the existing conditions be such that the oil can be pumped satisfactorily from the storage tank to the preheater.

SULFUR: Sulfur in fuel oil is a major contributing factor in air pollution. Sulfur also has detrimental effect on breechings, stacks, flues, and other metal parts. In addition to the ASTM D396-86 requirements that fuel oil furnished under specification Mich. 4220-S1, December, 1993 shall not contain substances exceeding the parameters listed below when tested by the specified method.

SIGNIFICANCE OF GRADES:

- | | |
|----------------|---|
| Grade No. 1D: | Fuels of this grade are suitable for use in high-speed engines in service involving frequent and relatively wide variations in loads and speeds, and also for use where abnormally low fuel temperatures are encountered. |
| Premium Grade: | Fuels of this grade are similar to the No. 2-D fuels, except for improved detergent, rust inhibiting, anti-knock, engine starting and smoke control qualities. |

SIGNIFICANCE OF TESTS PRESCRIBED:

- | | |
|-----------------|---|
| Cetane Number: | Cetane number is a measure of the ignition quality of the fuel and influences combustion roughness. The Cetane number requirements depend on engine conditions. Increase in Cetane number over values actually required does not materially improve engine performance. |
| A.P.I. Gravity: | This is a measure of the density of petroleum products. Low A.P.I. gravity values represent light oils. |
| Flash Point: | The flash point as specified is not directly related to engine performance. It is, however, of importance in connection with legal requirements and safety precautions involved in fuel handling and storage, and is normally specified to meet insurance and fire regulations. |

- Pour Point: Pour Point is of importance in connection with the lowest temperature which the fuel may reach and still be sufficiently fluid to be pumped or transferred. The pour point is generally interrelated with Cetane number and volatility. Frequently low pour points may be obtained only at the expense of lowering the Cetane rating or increasing the volatility. The pour point, therefore, should not be specified lower than necessary.
- Viscosity: For some engines it is advantageous to specify a minimum viscosity because of power loss due to injection pump and injector leakage. Maximum viscosity, on the other hand, is limited by considerations involved in engine design and size, and the characteristics of the injection system.
- Distillation: The fuel volatility requirements depend on engine design, size, nature of speed and load variations, and on starting and atmospheric conditions. For engines in service involving rapidly fluctuating loads and speeds as in bus and truck operation, and the more volatile fuels may provide best performance, particularly with respect to smoke and order. However, best fuel economy is generally obtained from the heavier types of fuels because of their higher heat content.
- Carbon Residue: Carbon Residue gives a measure of the carbon depositing tendencies of a fuel oil when heated in a bulb under prescribed conditions. While not directly correlating with engine deposits, this property is considered and approximation.
- Sulfur: The effect of sulfur content on engine wear and deposits appear to vary considerably in importance and depends largely on operating conditions. In order to assure maximum availability of fuels, the permissible sulfur content should be specified as high as practicable, consistent with maintenance considerations.
- Cooper Strip Corrosion: This test serves as a measure of possible difficulties with copper and brass or bronze parts of the fuel system.

SIGNIFICANCE OF TESTS PRESCRIBED

POUR POINT: The pour point is an indication of the lowest temperature at which a fuel oil can be stored and still be capable of flowing under very low forces. The pour point is prescribed in accordance with the conditions of storage and use. Higher pour point fuels are permissible where heated storage and adequate piping facilities are provided. An increase in pour point may occur when residual fuel oils are subjected to cyclic temperature variations that may occur in the course of storage or when the fuel is preheated and returned to storage tanks.

* Alternative Test Methods That Indicated Flow Point Properties Can Be Used For Low Sulfur Residual Fuels By Agreement Between Purchaser and Supplier.

FLASH POINT:	The flash point of a fuel oil is an indication of the maximum temperature at which it can be stored and handled without serious fire hazard. The minimum permissible flash point is usually regulated by Federal, State, or Municipal laws and is based on accepted practice in handling and use.
WATER AND SEDIMENT:	Appreciable amounts of water and sediment in a fuel oil tend to cause fouling of facilities for handling it, and to give trouble in burner mechanisms. Sediment may accumulate in storage tanks and on filter screens or burner parts, resulting in obstruction to flow of oil from the tank to the burner. Water in distillate fuels may cause corrosion of tanks and equipment and it may cause emulsions in residual fuels.
CARBON RESIDUE:	Carbon residue of a fuel is a measure of the carbonaceous material left after all the volatile components are vaporized in the absence of air. It is a rough approximation of the tendency of a fuel to form deposits in vaporizing burners, such as pot-type and sleeve-type burners, where the fuel is vaporized in an air deficient atmosphere.
ASH:	The amount of ash is the quantity of noncombustible material in an oil. Excessive amounts may indicate the presence of materials that cause high wear of burner pumps and valves, and contribute to deposits on boiler heating surfaces.
DISTILLATION:	The distillation test shows the volatility of a fuel and the ease with which it can be vaporized. The test is of greater significance for oils that are to be burned in vaporizing type burners than for the atomizing type. For example, the maximum 10 percent and 90 percent distilled temperatures are specified for grade No. 1 fuel. The limiting 10 percent value assures easy starting in vaporizing type burners and the 90 percent limit excludes heavier fractions that would be difficult to vaporize. The limits specified for grade No. 2 heating oil define a product that is acceptable for burners of the atomizing type in household heating installations. Distillation limits are not specified for fuel oils of grades Nos. 4, 5, and 6.
VISCOSITY:	Viscosity Limits for Grades Nos. 1 and 2 – The viscosity of an oil is a measure of its resistance to flow. In fuel oil it is highly significant since it indicated both the relative ease with which the oil will flow or may be pumped, and the ease of atomization.

Viscosity limits for No. 1 and No. 2 grades are specified to help maintain uniform fuel flow in appliance with gravity flow, and to provide satisfactory atomization and constant flow rate through the small nozzles of household burners. For the heavier grades of industrial and bunker fuel oils, viscosity is of major importance, so that adequate preheating facilities can be provided to permit them to be pumped to the burner and to provide good atomization. However, it is equally important that the maximum viscosity under the existing conditions be such that the oil can be pumped satisfactorily from the storage tank to the preheater.

SULFUR:

Sulfur in fuel oil is a major contributing factor in air pollution. Sulfur also has detrimental effect on breechings, stacks, flues, and other metal parts

A. It is the intent of these classifications that failure to meet any requirement of a given grade does not automatically place an oil in the next lower grade unless it meets all requirements of the lower grade.

B. In countries outside the United States other sulfur limits may apply.

C. Lower or higher pour points may be specified whenever required by conditions of storage or use. When pour point less than - 18°C (0°F) is specified, the minimum viscosity for grade No. 2 shall be 1.7 cSt (31.5SUS)

D. Viscosity values in parentheses are for information only and not necessarily limited.

E. The amount of water by distillation plus the sediment by extraction shall not exceed the value shown in the table. For Grade No. 6 fuel oil, the amount of sediment by extraction shall not exceed 0.50 weight %, and a deduction in quality shall be made for all water and sediment in excess of 1.0 weight %.

F. Where low sulfur fuel oil is required, fuel of falling in the viscosity range of a lower numbered grade down to and including No. 4 may be supplied by agreement between purchaser and supplier. The viscosity range of the initial shipment shall be identified and advance notice shall be required when changing from one viscosity range to another. This notice shall be in sufficient time to permit the user to make the necessary adjustments.

G. This limit guarantees a minimum heating value and also prevents misrepresentation and misapplication of this product as Grade No. 2

H. Where low sulfur fuel oil is required, Grade 6 fuel oil will be classified as low pour + 15°C (60°F) max or high pour (no max). Low pour fuel oil should be used unless all tanks and lines are heated.
